Cal's Hagy Wins Long Drive, UNLV's Penner Takes Putting Contest

The 38th edition of the Western Refining College All-America Golf Classic kicked off on Sunday morning at the El Paso Country Club with friendly competition as California's Brandon Hagy and UNLV's Kevin Penner earned bragging rights in the Titleist Long Drive and the PING Putting Contest, respectively.

Hagy's best of three went 362 yards to overthrow last year's champion Arkansas' Sebastian Cappelen, who was the early leader with a 328 swing. Georgia's Keith Mitchell came closest to Hagy's distance settling for second with a drive of 338 yards. Ben Taylor, the 2012 Division II Player of the Year, finished third with a distance of 337.

In the PING Putting Contest, Penner carded a 19 in the nine-hole event to edge out UCLA's Pedro Figueiredo's and Auburn's Dominic Bozzelli's score of 22 who tied for second.

The 38th Annual Western Refining College All-America Golf Classic begins play Monday at 8:00 a.m. (MT) at the El Paso Country Club.
